BEACH-FARI ROUTE

1. MAUNDAY'S BAY

Maunday's is a pristine beach as its located on the cove and protected from debris. 'Welcome to your island hideaway' it says as you drive up. Find parking to your left, head up the stairs, beneath the exuberant chandelier, and through—what feels like—a piece of Morocco.

The white drapes of the Belmond mimic the white sand of this quiet, sweet beach—a perfect setting for starting the beach-fari. Walk the curvy beach, and watch the last moments of the sun rise as you melt into the sand.

2. COVE BAY

Next stop is Cove Bay, a very private beach setting not too far from Maunday's. Be sure to have your shades on hand as the sun's reflection onto the white sand is nearly blinding (in a good way, of course). Divert your gaze and take your sights out onto the Caribbean Sea, immediately noticing the mountainous landscape of St. Maarten—just across the way.

3. RENDEZVOUS BAY

With a relaxed, zen mindset, head to Rendezvous Bay for a pick-me up and a good snorkel. This beach, too, has panoramic views of St. Maarten. For lunch, we recommend Sunshine Shack for a cocktail and beach bbq—a truly feel good spot for food and drinks. Owner Garvey Lake is known as the mixologist on the island...and probably the most positive human you'll ever meet.

So grab a drink, bite, and a sharpie pen before you go—his infamous calligraphy wall is nearly covered in artwork from all the visitors!

4. CROCUS BAY

With bellies full, make your way across the island to Crocus Bay for water sports and seashell exploring. It's a smaller more secluded beach, but full of water adventures. Most people like to grab a paddle board and paddle across to Little Bay, which also has a gorgeous beach and many spots to discover. Make time for exploring here (if it's a Sunday, get here early enough to enjoy the live music!).

5. SHOAL BAY EAST

Alas, as the sun is getting ready to set, head up to Shoal Bay East which is consistently deemed the most beautiful beach in the world. Give yourself a bit of time to get to Shoal Bay East as it's on the Atlantic coast. Though the water is chillier, it's the perfect beach to catch both a sunrise and sunset (and in this case, we're recommending it for a beautiful sunset).

BACK TO MEAD'S BAY

Moke on back to Malliouhana once you've had your beach fill—or close to. Grab a lantern for a romantic beach walk on the quaint and quiet Meads Bay beach before or after dining at Celeste—our restaurant gem overlooking the Caribbean Sea.
